

Annual EUROCRINE Report Switzerland 2018

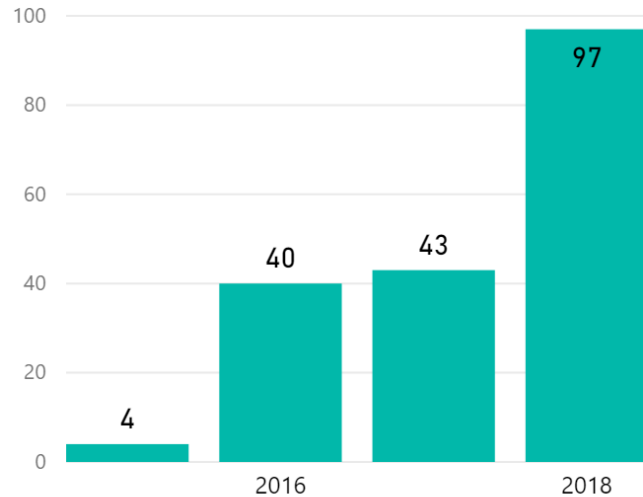

Adrenal Surgery

EUROCRINE Report on Adrenal Resections

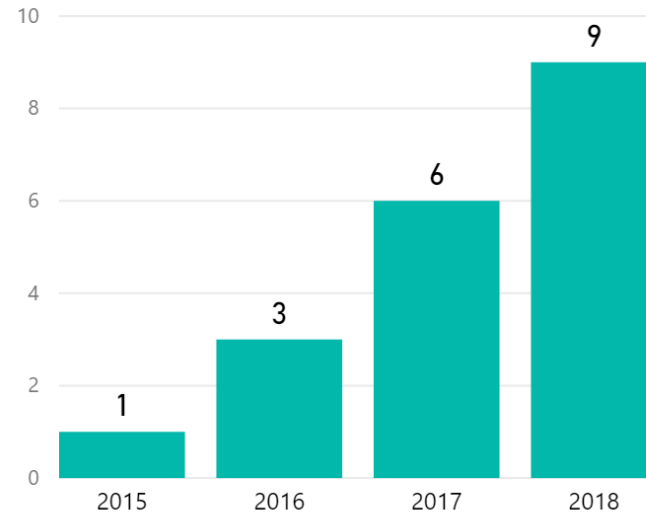

Switzerland - General Developments

Registered Adrenal Operations

Number of Swiss EUROCRINE Clinics Registering Adrenal Operations

Contributing Swiss EUROCRINE Clinics

- CHUV
- Hôpitaux Universitaires de Gen...
- Kantonsspital Aarau
- Kantonsspital Winterthur
- Klinik für Chirurgie, St. Gallen
- Spital Limmattal
- Spitalzentrum Biel
- St. Claraspital
- Viszeralchirurgie, Inselspital Bern

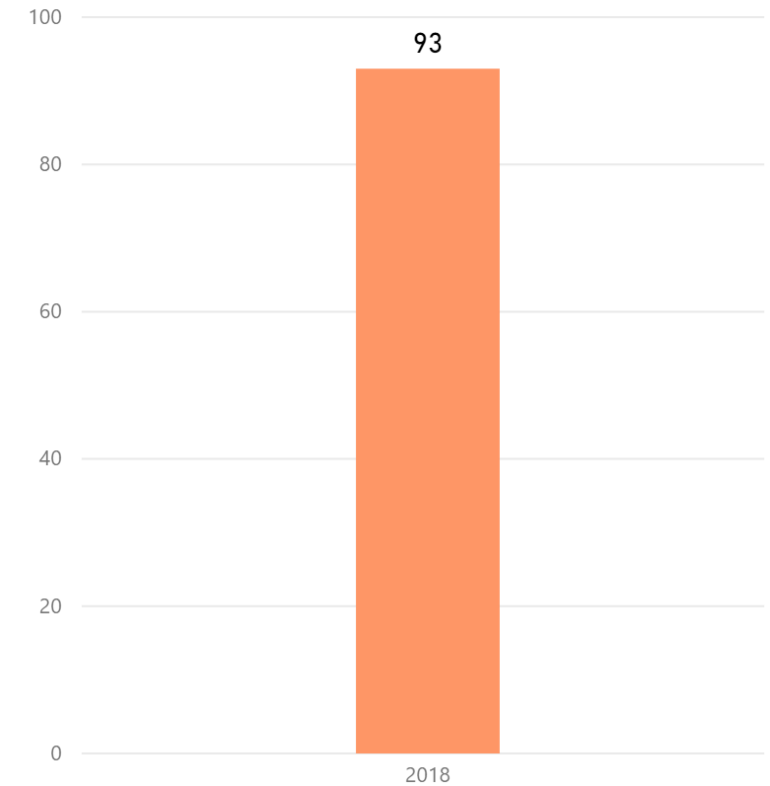

Contributing Swiss EUROCRINE Clinics

- CHUV
- Hôpitaux Universitaires de Genève
- Kantonsspital Aarau
- Kantonsspital Winterthur
- Klinik für Chirurgie, St. Gallen
- Spital Limmattal
- Spitalzentrum Biel
- St. Claraspital
- Viszeralchirurgie, Inselspital Bern

Investigated Year

- Alle auswählen
- 2015
- 2016
- 2017
- 2018
- 2019

Registered Adrenal Resections

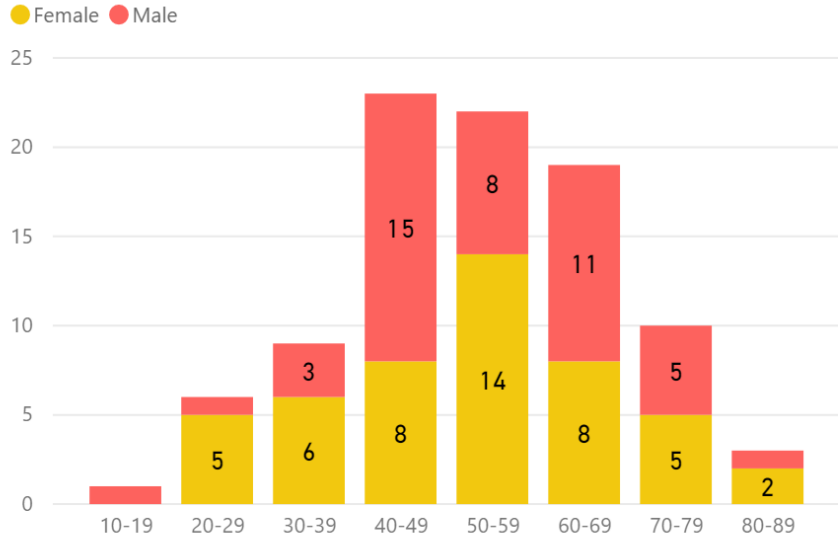

Adrenal Glands

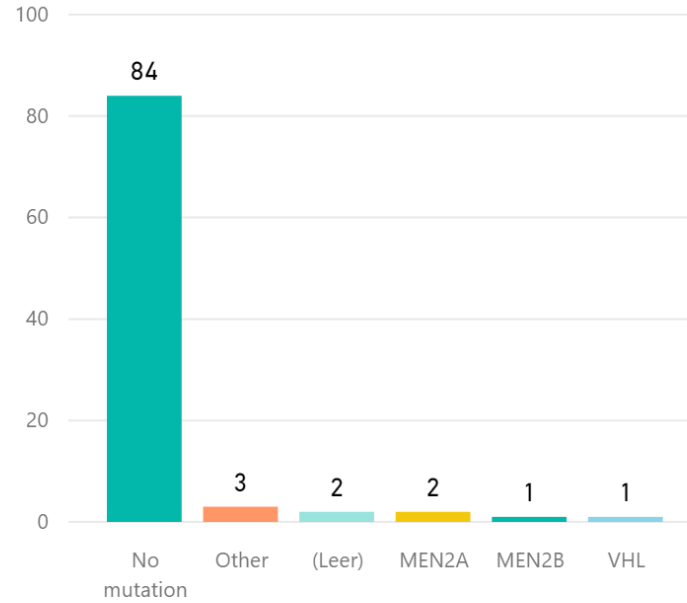

Age and Gender Distribution, Specific Mutations, Hormonal Syndroms and Diagnosis

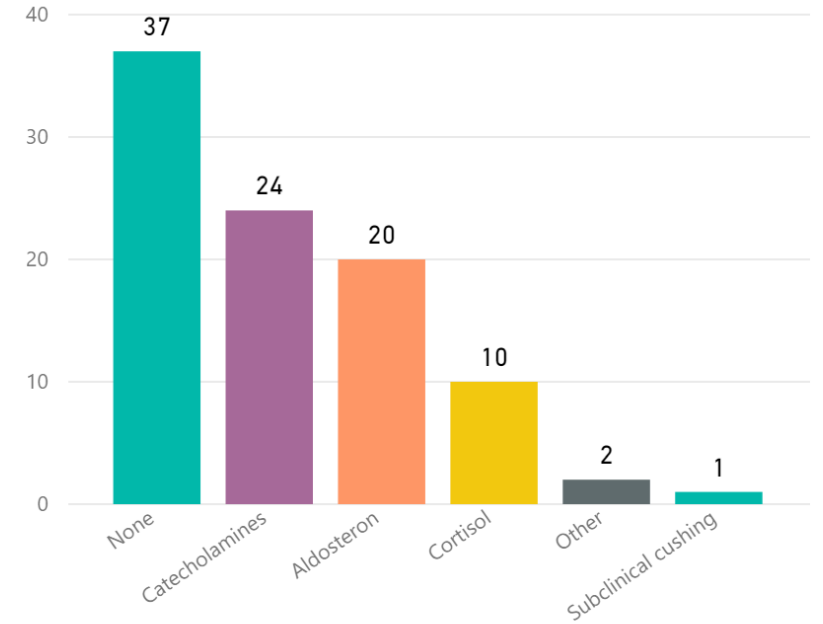

Age Distribution and Gender

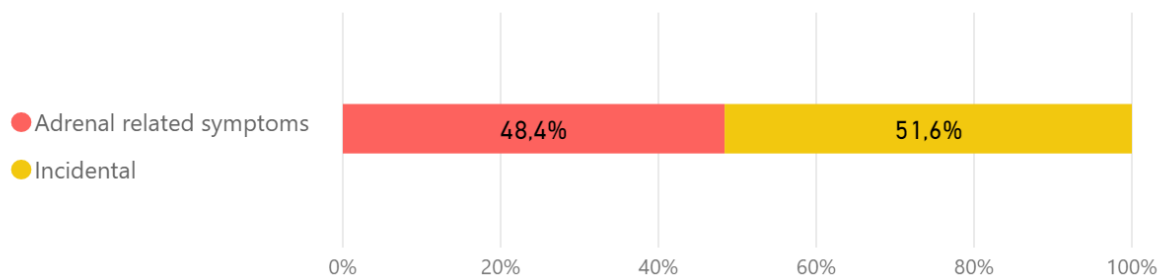

Specific Mutations

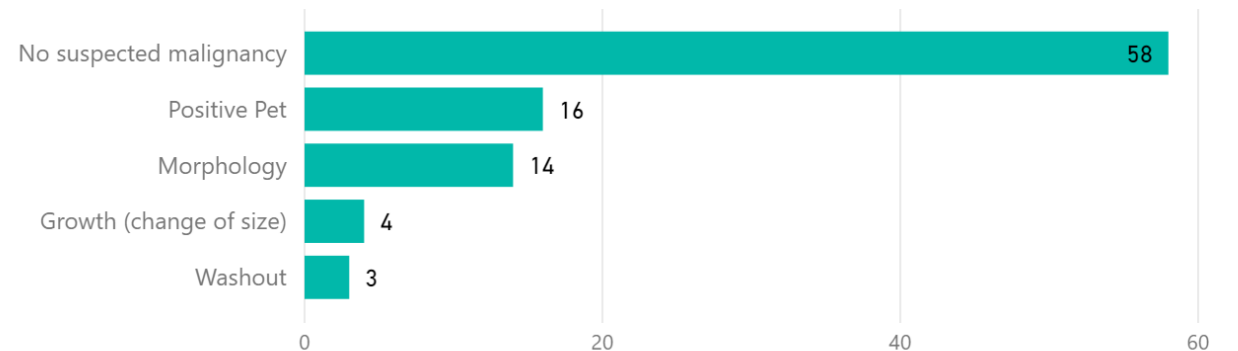

Hormons Expressed

Diagnosis

Suspicion of Malignancy on Imaging Studies

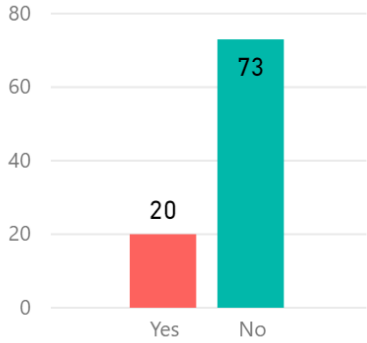

Adrenal Glands

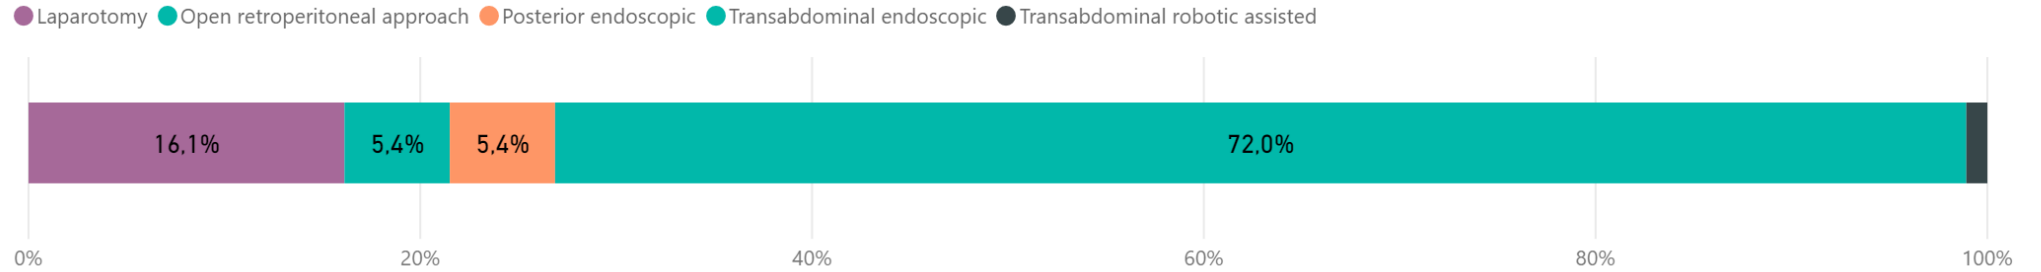

Indication, Approach, Operation and Reasons for Conversion

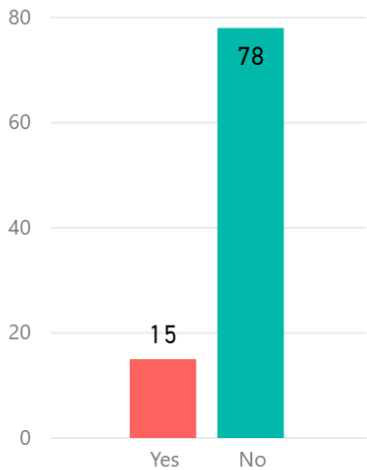

Surgery for Metastasis

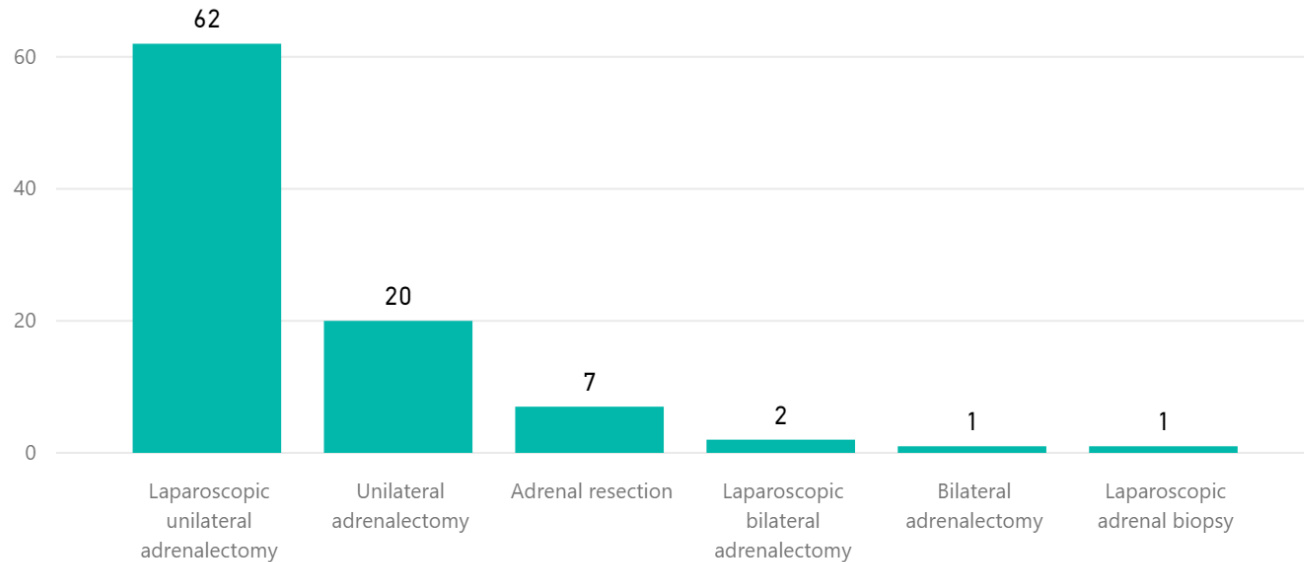

Final Surgical Approach

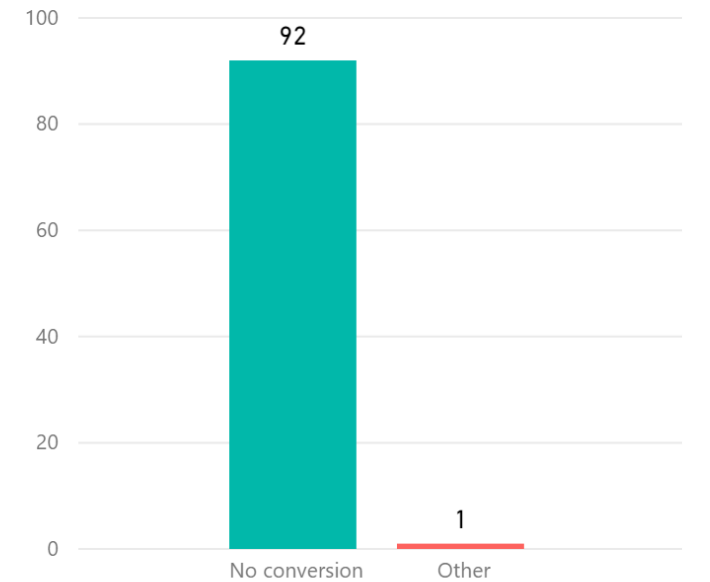

Size as Only Indication

Adrenal Operation

Reasons for Conversion to Open Access

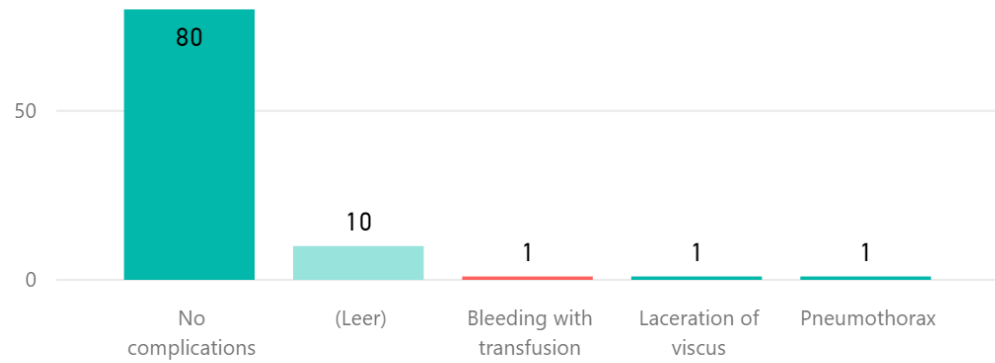

Adrenal Glands

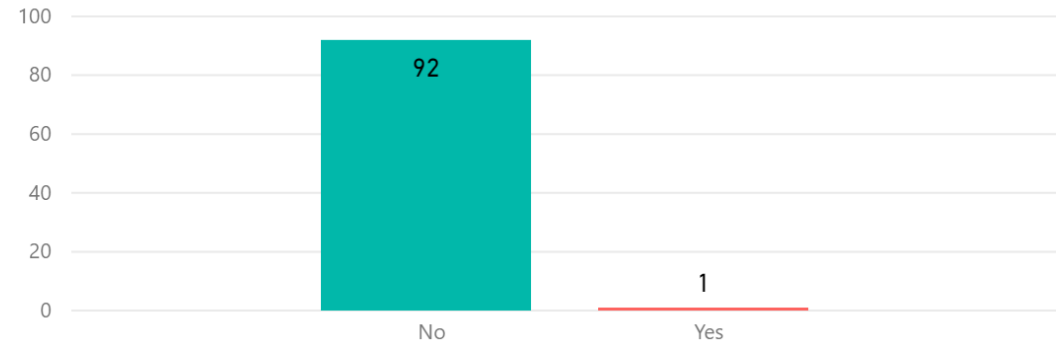

Complications, Morbidity, Re-Operations, Postoperative Treatment

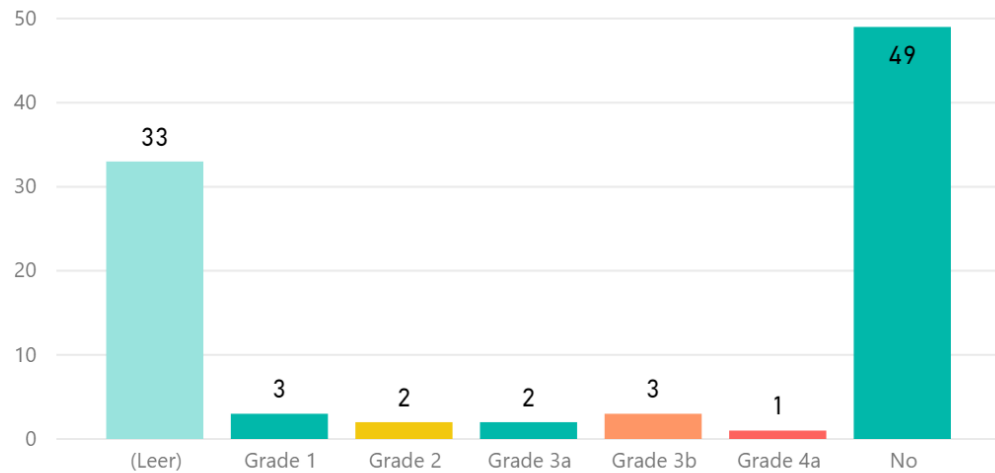

Postoperative Complications

Re-Operations for Postoperative Complications

Morbidity According to Dindo-Clavien

Postoperative Treatment due to Adrenal Insufficiency at First Follow-up

